Course formats – both in-person and online

We combine theory & practice.

In-person courses

These courses perfectly combine both theory and practice into one.

VITA in-person courses take place in selected, modern laboratories in an optimised learning environment. VITA's own training centres are available in many different countries. In small groups of participants and outside of your daily laboratory routine, you will create restorations, characterise them and adapt them to the individual patient under the continuous guidance of experienced dental experts.

The courses cover a wide range of topics, from methodical procedures for setting up complete dentures, manufacturing digital dentures, efficient and accurate shade standard layering and pressing of single-tooth restorations to CAD/CAM material concepts and cases of implant prosthetics.

Online courses

Our online courses are interactive, competent and are available from anywhere.

This course format focuses on transferring knowledge and creating a place for exchange between users. You can benefit from being able to participate from wherever you are, flexibility in terms of time and a specifically limited number of participants.

Dental experts and our VITA ACADEMY training team will demonstrate how to successfully carry out highly aesthetic restorations from different areas of complete and partial denture prosthetics and will explain key aspects of the process.

Whether you're learning how to design a digital prosthesis, the process steps, how to process ready-made teeth, how to layer and model veneering ceramics or how to create individual surfaces of single implants produced with CAD/CAM, VITA ensures this is realistic, individual, fast and safe. Easy and flexible learning online.

Special courses

Our special courses offer you a truly unique learning experience that combines course offers and special events for you.

This format focuses on qualified training and professional exchange between users. These events include important trade fairs, special events, presentations by recognised experts, VITA FACEBOOK LIVE and individual training courses at your premises. The special courses at VITA offer you training and further education in an event atmosphere.
